

How to Add Weeks to Your School Year Lessons

If you need more weeks of lessons, you can easily add them with these resources:

- Holiday lessons - Spanish for You! has mini-lessons for Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. They can be found HERE.
- Free extra lessons included in the Spanish for You! themed book. Each of our themed books contains one or two extra mini-lessons that are included as freebies and that are additional to the 24-30 week program.
- Have a music week. Write songs to familiar tunes using material the students have been learning OR use our supplemental songs for the Mi vida, Viajes, and Conversaciones themed packages found HERE.
- Insert review weeks where students do various games and activities that review various concepts. Browse activity ideas and other free items to use HERE. As a curriculum user, you will have a password to enter the page.
- Insert expansion activity weeks where students use their language skills in open-ended and creative ways doing things like creating skits, writing dialogs, writing songs to commonly known tunes, etc.
- Cultural weeks where you explore Spanish speaking countries and their foods, music, celebrations, etc.
- Browse the Spanish for You! website blog for ideas, the monthly newsletters which have a freebie every month, or our Free Mini-Lessons page. Anything you find will be FREE, simple, and easy to do!
- Do a week of assessment activities with these ideas:
 - Blast from the Past worksheets and Storyboards FREE on our Curriculum Users page
 - Redo any of the activities or worksheets students have done throughout the lessons as assessment. Create a simple rubric to evaluate.
- There is an end-of-the year test and review activities included with your themed package that you can use your last week.
- Need any other ideas, just contact Debbie and ask!
